Attrition rate in NTPD

2869. SHRI B.K. HARIPRASAD: Will the Minister of POWER be pleased to state:

(a) whether the attrition rate in the National Thermal Power Corporation is high, with more than 142 executives quitting NTPC during 2006-07 for more pay and perks in the private power sector; and

(b) if so, whether, with many mega power projects under implementation or at the planning state, NTPC could reduce this high attrition rate, with better pay package and congenial working conditions, at par with the private sector?

THE MINISTER OF POWER (SHRI SUSHILKUMAR SHINDE): (a) In the year 2006-07, a total number of 165 executives resigned from NTPC Limited. The attrition percentage of the year is 1.55%, which is not high. The reasons cited by these executives for resigning from NTPC Ltd. are career enhancement; more pay and perks; academic pursuits etc.

(b) While a better pay package may help in retaining the executives, NTPC Limited has been pursuing Human Resource Development (HRD) initiatives with the following objectives:–

- To enhance organizational performance by institutionalizing an objective and open performance management system.
- To align individual and organizational needs and develop business leaders by implementing a career development system.
- To enhance commitment of employees by recognizing and rewarding high performance.
- To build and sustain a learning organization of competent world-class professionals.
- To institutionalize core values and create a culture of team-building, empowerment, equity, innovation and openness which would motivate employees and enable achievement of strategic objectives.
